

REGISTERNO:820317205701

EXNO:

NAME:K.Gohilarani

DATE:

BRANCH: IT

YEAR:

WELCOME ADDRESS

Esteemed Guest of Honor, Respected Principal, Professors and My Dear Friends – Warm Welcome to all of you to the 25th annual function of our college!

I, Ananya Shukla – from BA English (Hons.) Program, 3rd year – feel extremely privileged to be standing in front of you all and welcoming everyone in this grand celebration. The day is primarily special because of the annual function and secondly for the successful completion of 25 years of our college. In this long span of 25 years, the fame of our college has tremendously grown. The college was founded with a view to provide excellent learning opportunities to the students and a great platform to showcase their skills.

Beginning with a few foundation courses, our college has gone on to provide not only graduation courses, but post graduation as well as PhD courses. This is indeed quite an achievement for our college and we are also renowned for our well-equipped research centers. In fact, every year research scholars' day is also celebrated where research scholars from different parts of the country are invited and knowledge is shared, that benefits everyone present under the same roof.

Other than academic achievements, we also cherish development in the field of sports, arts and culture. What I like the most about my college is that it gives equal importance to each and every discipline, so much so that students have the opportunity to achieve an overall development of their personality. Like every year, in today's annual function too our students will try to put their best foot forward. The preparations have been going on from last two months. I hope all my friends shine through in their performances and give our audience, chiefly our special guest today a high dose of entertainment.

But before we kick start today's program, please allow me to share the schedule of today's annual function, i.e. firstly our Hon'ble principal will grace the stage by felicitating our guest of honor followed by a speech ceremony. Then will follow the performances of the students, which are a mix of dance performances, singing performances, playing of the instruments, etc. Before closing the day, we would also request our guest of honor to say a few words to our students and give away awards and medals to the candidates who have brought accolades and glory to our college in various disciplines.

Besides, I would also like to request the head of the sociology department to share her knowledge on women healthcare programs and what all are the lucrative opportunities available to them in different public as well as private sectors. It would hence be very enlightening for our female audience who can greatly benefit from the speech.

In the end, I just would want to say that may everyone enjoy today's program and take back some wonderful memories. Now, I would request our Principal – Smt. to kindly come on stage and say a few words in this regard.

Thank you all for being such a great audience!

Thank you!